

Here is Michael Teckle from Vancouver part of the so called SEMRE, so what good do you expect from lunatic nurse, that has no clue as from his own greed interest –First of all The consulate has not contacted you according to your statement in the national post article or any other Eritrean/Canadian to inquire of payment for 2% any other services, Obviously you contacted the consulate office to plead for information as you and your other stooges that is working day and night to figure out how to make difficult for the ordinary Eritrea/Canadian that like to get whatever consular services is required by Eritrean/Canadian in timely matter, so what your wish it to make it harder for people

The Enemy of Eritrean/Canadians is trying so hard to take your rights and privileges as a citizen of both great nations by staring; lobbied by the Weyane Regime... Right to left WediVocaro, Hat and reading glasses Michael Tekle , 2nd pic, Michael Tekle, Kibrom, Elsa cherum and the rest under the pretext of human right watch group and at the same time EYSN(Semre group) who clearly has no vision except create distraction period. Enough said for now... evidence well documented...

“Vienna Convention on Consular Relations
Article 5 - Consular functions

It is loud and clear as per Vienna convention regulations what a consular relation and what consulate office should do, which clearly no law was broken by the consulate of Eritrea, in fact the law was broken by you and your followers eating out by lying and trying to mislead the Government of Canada, criminals like you deserve to be brought forwarded to Supreme Court.

Some of his comments, look at fraudsters shed crocodile tears!

“They told me that you have to pay 2%,” said Michael Teckle, 34, a Canadian citizen who fled Eritrea in 2002. He said consulate officials had solicited the tax from him on June 10, 11 and 16 — well after Eritrea told Ottawa it would no longer do so.”

So what if you were given information, if you made the time to call the consulates office to inquire information whatever the requirement maybe by GOE before you can get services you have to be in compliance since you are the one that needed services from government of Eritrea not the other way around, but let me correct to his report of the 2nd part

“Among those who taped their calls was Mr. Teckle, who left Eritrea after he was imprisoned for two months during a crackdown on students. He said consulate staff told him as recently as Monday he had to pay $6,000 in back taxes, otherwise they would not allow him to have his university transcript.” According to your whining reports national post, you have been in Canada since 2002 until today’s date so roughly the break down will be about $500 a year for a Nurse that should be peanut if you ask me you and I know well how much taxes we pay to CRA which I have no problem to fulfilling my dues with both nation that I am proud of, maybe the Canadian government especially CRA should see you and your goons true color investigate your status.

You mention to get your transcript from ministry of Education of Eritrea if you don’t pay 2% you won’t get it, the reason you would be required to pay your services which you clearly need Power of Attorney in or your representative to claim your transcript from MOEE and Power of attorney without fulfilling your due tough luck, weather you have a transcript at U Of Asmara only God knows you look to stupid for you to be enrolled, you and people like you, Weghata Tesfamariam, Gezae Hagos that has been whining and dinning with the Weyane and licking left over plate of the Ethiopian Regime. There are lots we can expose you with; here are more pictures and activities along with enemy of Eritreans:

The CBC wrote an article on Eritrea's supposed 2% tax and they brought the testimony of a woman who called herself Wegaheta Tesfamariam. As the case with tabloid journalism that is devoid of any objectivity and fact checking, and in their rush to demonize Canadian-Eritreans, the CBC produced the testimony of a woman who falsely represented herself to the Canadian public. The woman the CBC passed off as Wegaheta Tesfamariam is actually using Dawn Berhane. Mrs. Berhane and her father are active members of the so called "Eritrea opposition" groups, in particular, a group calling itself "Eritrean Youth Solidarity for National Salvation" or EYSNS or Semre , which is linked to terrorism in the horn of Africa. The aim of this group is "regime change" in Eritrea.

For your reference, we have evidenced below, the individual Wegaheta Tesfamariam during ceremony of EYSNs, this is a congratulatory post on Facebook, by another political activist. Note: that this character calls her "Dawn Berhane"

When you go to Dawn Berhane's page, this is what you find. Note also, that she has a logo of her opposition group in the smaller picture of "EYSNS Congress"

She participated in these demonstrations and proudly displays it on her Facebook page.

These are the people who the CBC and other Canadian media are calling victims of “extortion “Stewart Bell continues to write articles about the "Diaspora tax" with little regard to facts, credible evidence and/or follow through. As an Eritrean who lives in the Diaspora, I should know a thing or two about the "Diaspora tax" and how it works. And based on what I know, there are many inaccuracies in this biased article that need to be addressed.

You claim the undertaking signed by Eritrea pledged that:

1) The consulate would not be involved in any way in soliciting or collecting taxes.

Based on the article, it seems as if Canadian citizens solicited the Embassy and its staff on the procedures of how to pay for services they sought. Further doesn't look as if anyone "extorted" "solicited" or "coerced" anyone into paying anything.

2) Any taxation would be done directly by the Eritrean government without the use of agents in Canada.

Once again based on what you've stated, the citizens pay their taxes in Eritrea or to representatives in Eritrea. No collection takes place by the Embassy or its staff. They merely help in estimating the taxes due.

3) Tax forms used in Canada would not contain any reference to financing the Eritrean military.

No evidence of the tax forms were presented in this report but you can download it from any Embassy website and you'll clearly see it has no reference to the Eritrean military.

Based on the information I've disclosed how is Eritrea not in compliance with Canadian regulations? Also how could the editor of the National Post allow such a report to be submitted without following the basic tenets of journalism?

The simple fact of the matter is the Canadian media is blindly or deliberately trying to defame Eritrean Consulate office without any fraction truth of act, anti-Eritrean Driving individuals without even attempting to get facts from the majority Eritrean/Canadian roughly over 30,000 residing in all Canadian provinces..
