

Greetings to all,

Eritrean Independence Day 2014 was colorfully celebrated in Miami said Mr. Peterkin, a Jamaican national who joined the event with his family. Mr. Peterkin captured the enclosed picture at 11:45 pm taken at the peak of the celebration, when the Eritrean women took the dance floor holding the nations' birthday cake. Mr. Peterkin posted the picture in social media and feedbacks were received in few minutes from Sweden, Switzerland and Holland expressing their solidarity with the event.

The Eritrean consular representative in Miami noted, "With the advent of social media, this celebration is not confined to one location. It certainly is part and parcel of the worldwide celebrations that the Eritrean people and its leadership are enjoying today and days to come for the rest of the month. We just torched the light early with two professional musicians Michael Zere from Atlanta and Mnasie Haile from LA".

May there be more of the same celebrations.

With kind regards,
