

Meles and Rice got a slap on their face!

I want to start my comments by quoting the famous Eritrean proverb which goes: “Even if you try to bury truth on its head, it comes out on its feet!” I believe that it is not easy to find a better expression that can exactly fit to explain the recent reports and statements made by -The Somalia and Eritrea Monitoring Group. The U.S. ambassador to the U.N. Suzan Rice and her puppet the genocidal minority leader of Ethiopia-Meles Zenawi, had both tirelessly and viciously tried to tarnish Eritrea as a sponsor of terrorism. But their plans vanished in vain as they got a slap on their faces for their notorious lies. Eritrea - the land of the can do people - have been vindicated by the reports which proved that there were no tangible facts that link the country with Al Shabaab of Somalia.

It is indeed a shame for the U.N.S.C. and a disgrace to the international community to be repeatedly misled by Meles Zenawi in collaboration with Suzan Rice and the U.S. State Dept., to pass a series of unjust and illegal sanctions against Eritrea based on fabricated lies. They have tried to press the S.E.M.G. to improvise some sort of baseless lies again; but without success. Truth can never be buried forever; even if you try to bury it on its head, it comes out on its feet. That is the simple truth!

The U.N.S.C. must now lift all the illegal and unjust sanctions passed against Eritrea immediately, because they are all against the rule of law, a shame for the U.N. and a disgrace for the international community.

With truth on its side Eritrea will always prevail! Metkel Asmerom Swe.
